Sneakers

This is the first page within the app.

Here you will find upcoming Sneaker drops. You will also have a 'Sneakers' chat channel, here staff members will post links and info for real-time sneaker drops (such as SNKRS).

The team will post a full breakdown of the shoe: RRP, Resell Value (Will vary based on size), Release date & time as well as raffle links and any other important information.

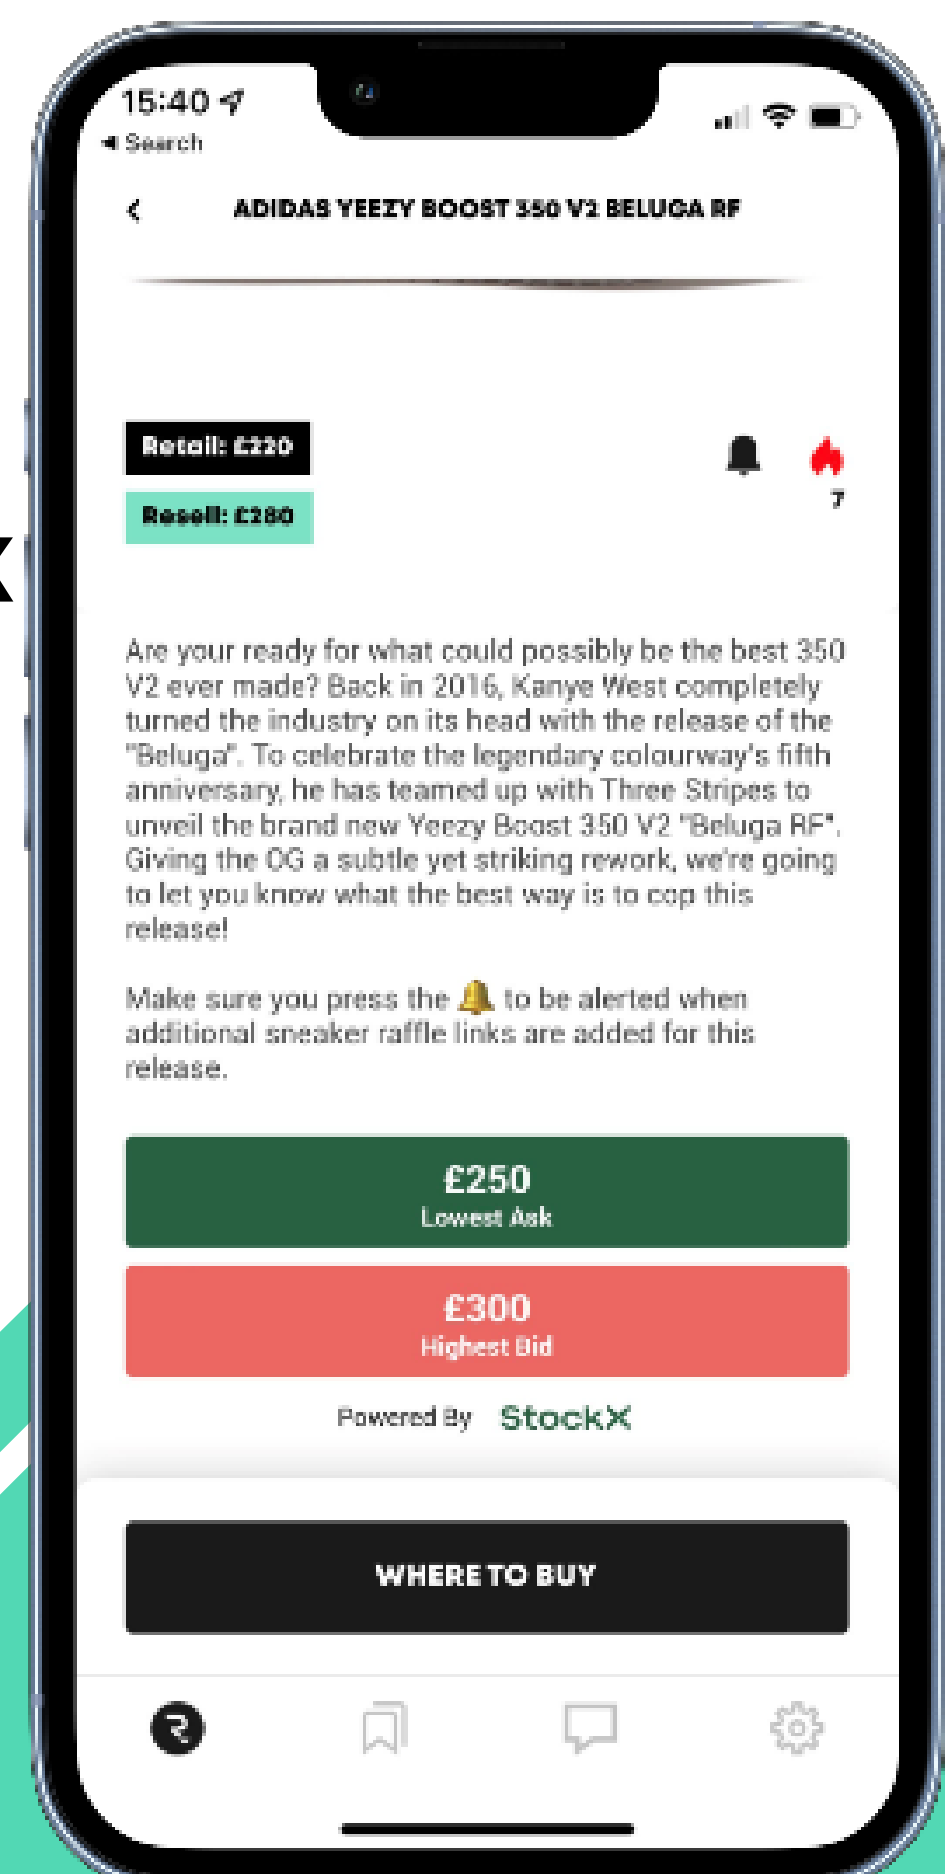

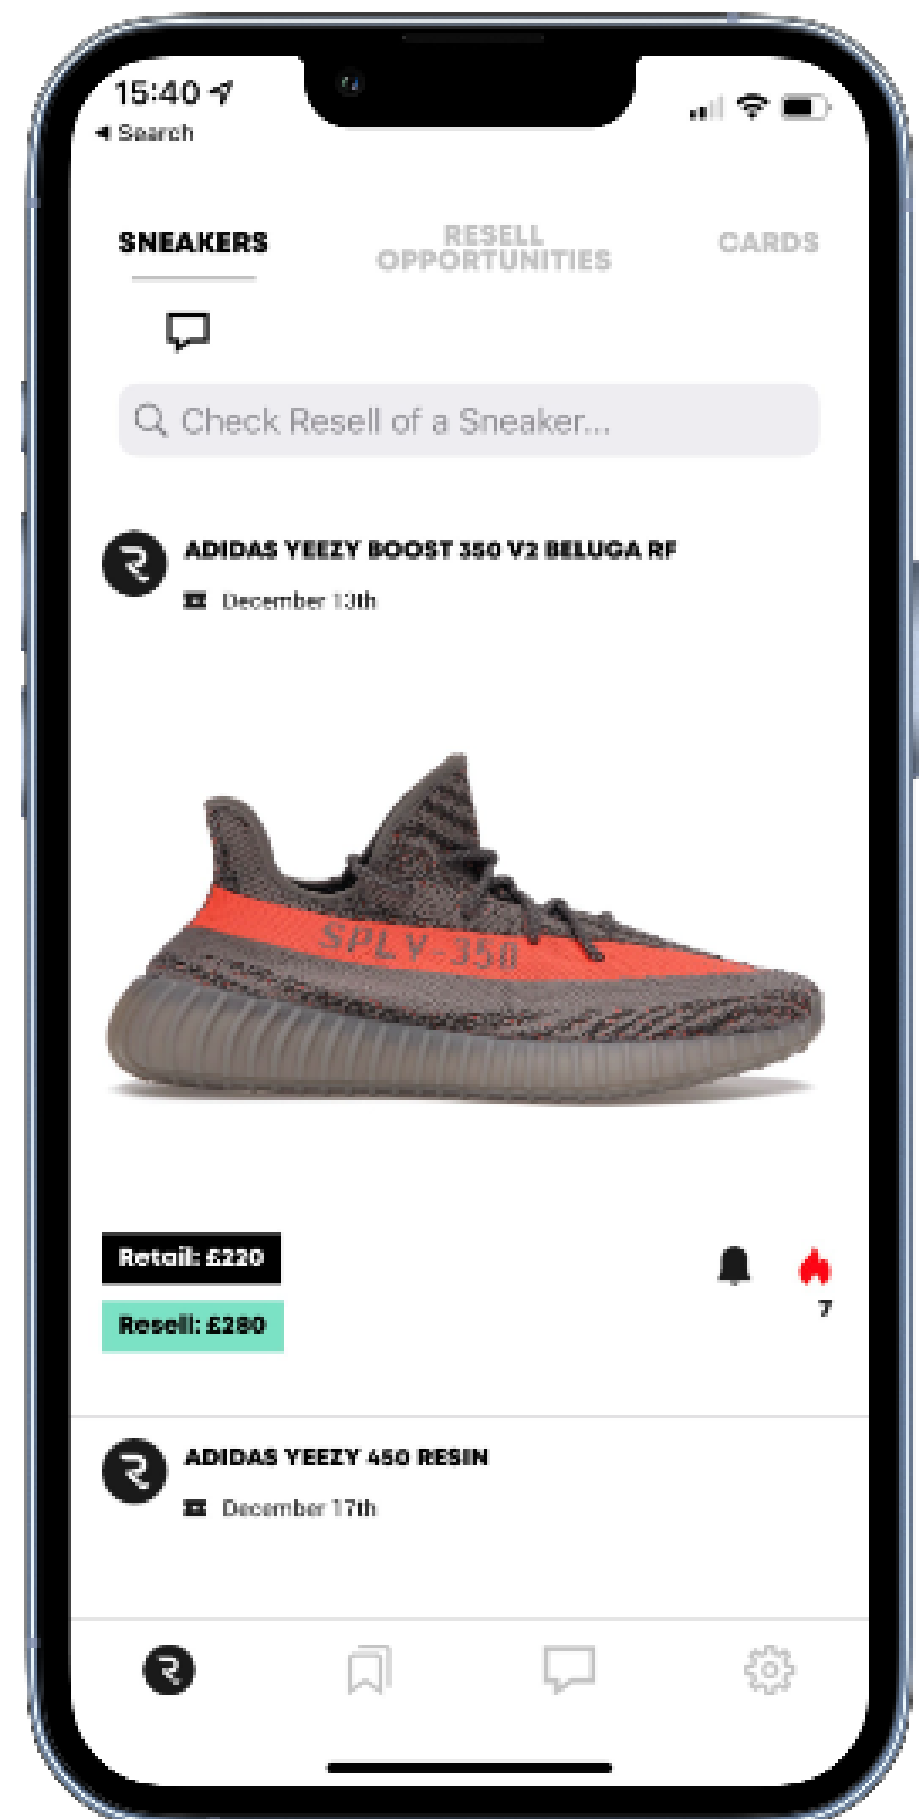

Most sneaker releases will take place via a raffle. A sneaker raffle or “draw” is when a retailer provides customers with the opportunity to win the right to purchase a pair of sneakers. We will let you know all the retailers that offer you the opportunity to buy the sneakers.

Lowest Ask: The lowest asking price on StockX

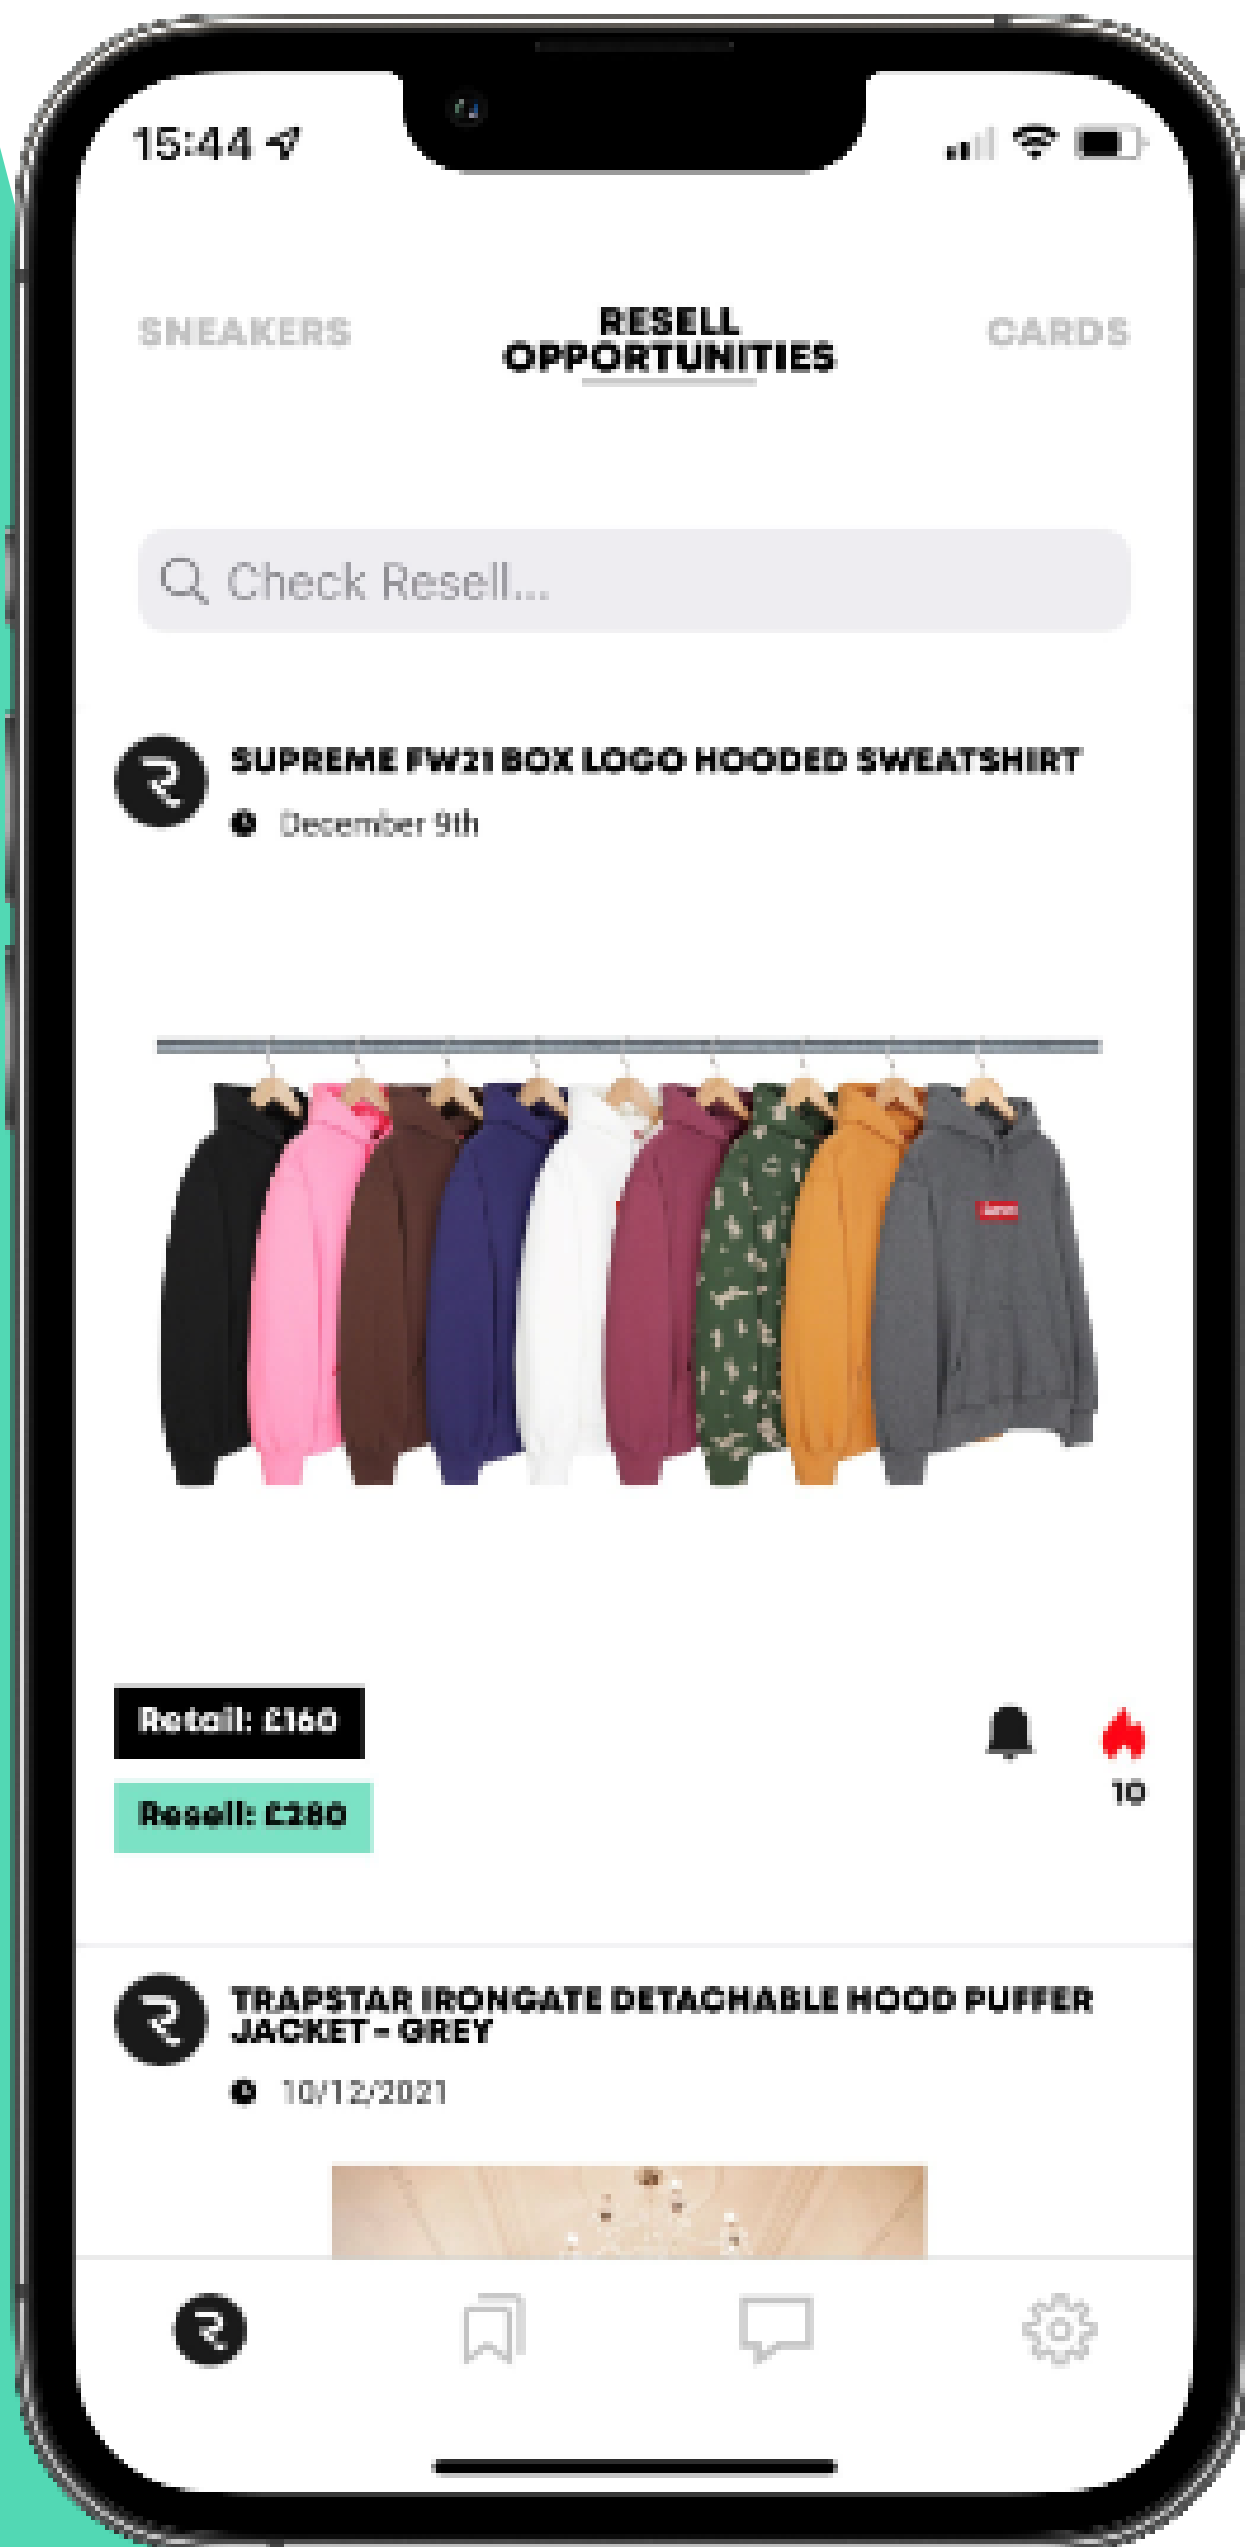

Highest Bid: The current highest bid on StockX

Where To Buy: Raffle Links and FCS drop info.

It is very important that you press the 'Bell' icon found on the sneaker info page. This will notify you whenever a new raffle link is added for that particular shoe.

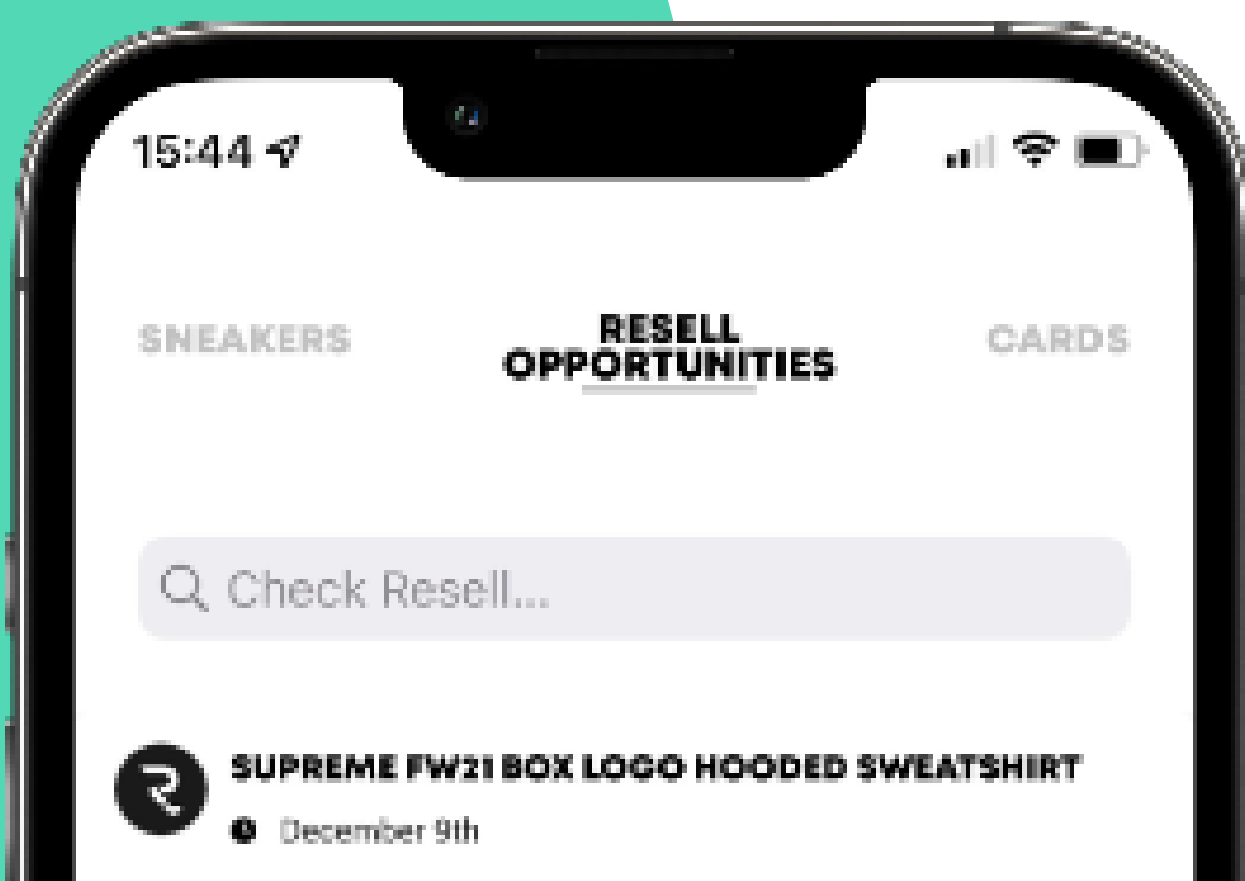

Resell Opportunities

This is the second tab on the landing page within the app. Here you will profitable Resell Opportunities.

The team will post a full breakdown of the item: RRP, Resell Value, Release date & time as well as links and any other important information.

Most items on this page are items that we are monitoring or items that are due to be released. Stock will only be available on the release date, after that any links to the items will be posted in the restocks/links channel.

Each of the tabs will also have a search bar which allows you to search for any item to see the latest sold listings. this will give you an idea of how much you can resell an item for.

To find out further information on the item, simply click the 'View' button.

Once clicked, you will find further details on the item(s) such as our resell analysis thoughts, risk factor and two buttons 'View Resell' & 'Where To Buy'

View Resell = will show you the current resell value of that particular item on eBay.

Where To Buy = Will show you all of the companies releasing the item with the inclusion of direct product links.

99% of our items are risk free, as all companies within the UK are obliged to offer at least a minimum of 14-day returns.

Once the item is released our monitors will also be tracking for when the item comes back in to stock. We will post any restocks in the 'Restocks/Links' channel.

Make sure to click the bell icon to be notified when more links are added!

Cards

This is the third page within the app. Here you will find card investments, from Football to F1.

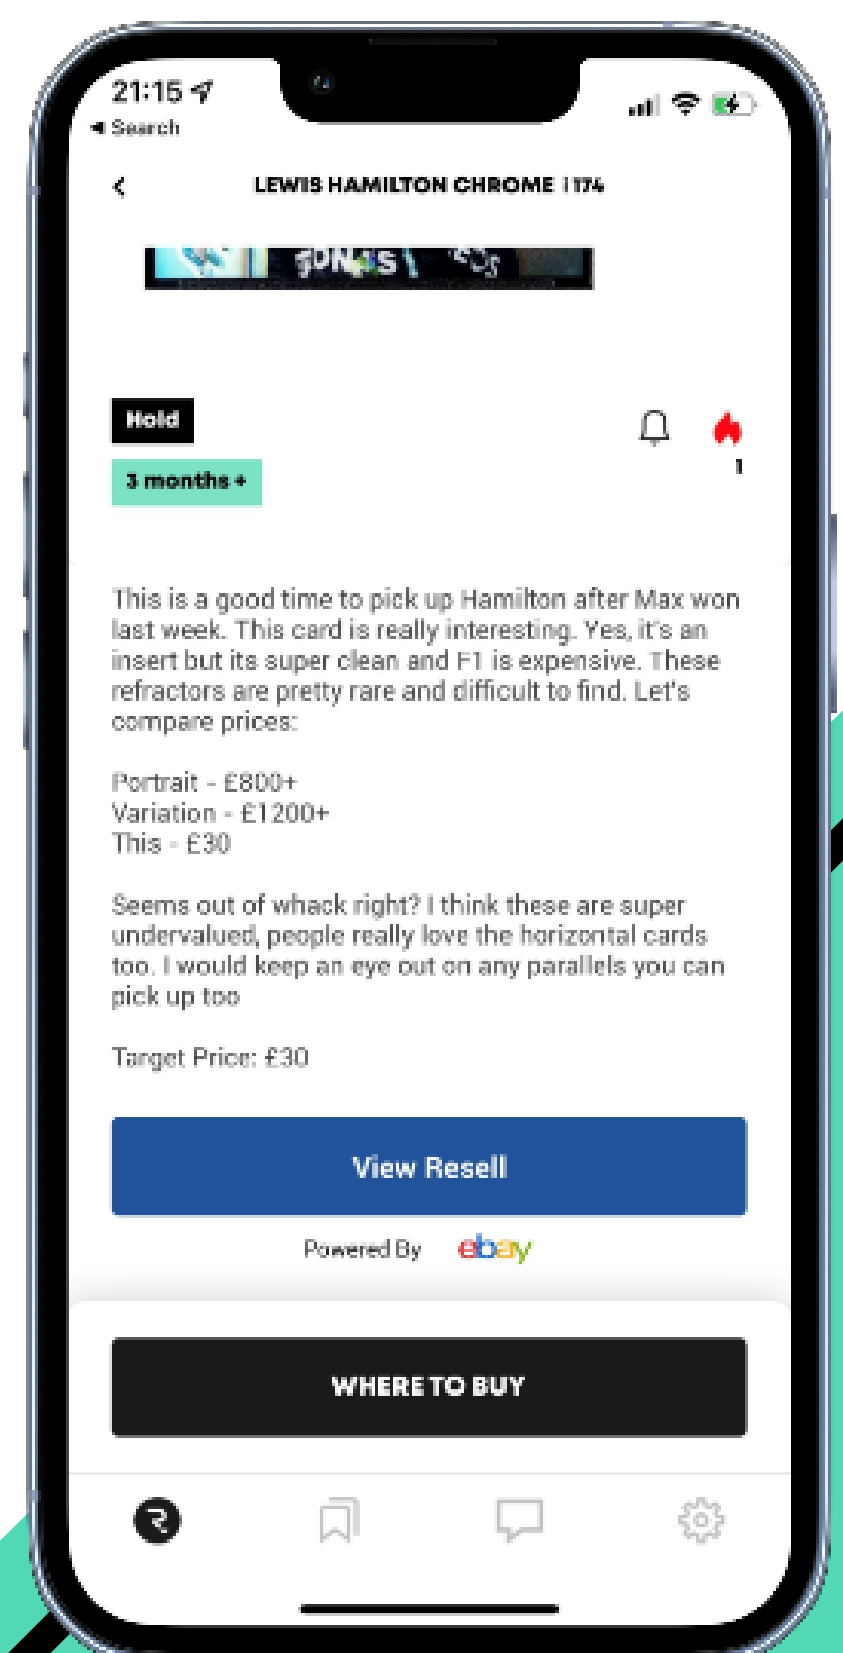

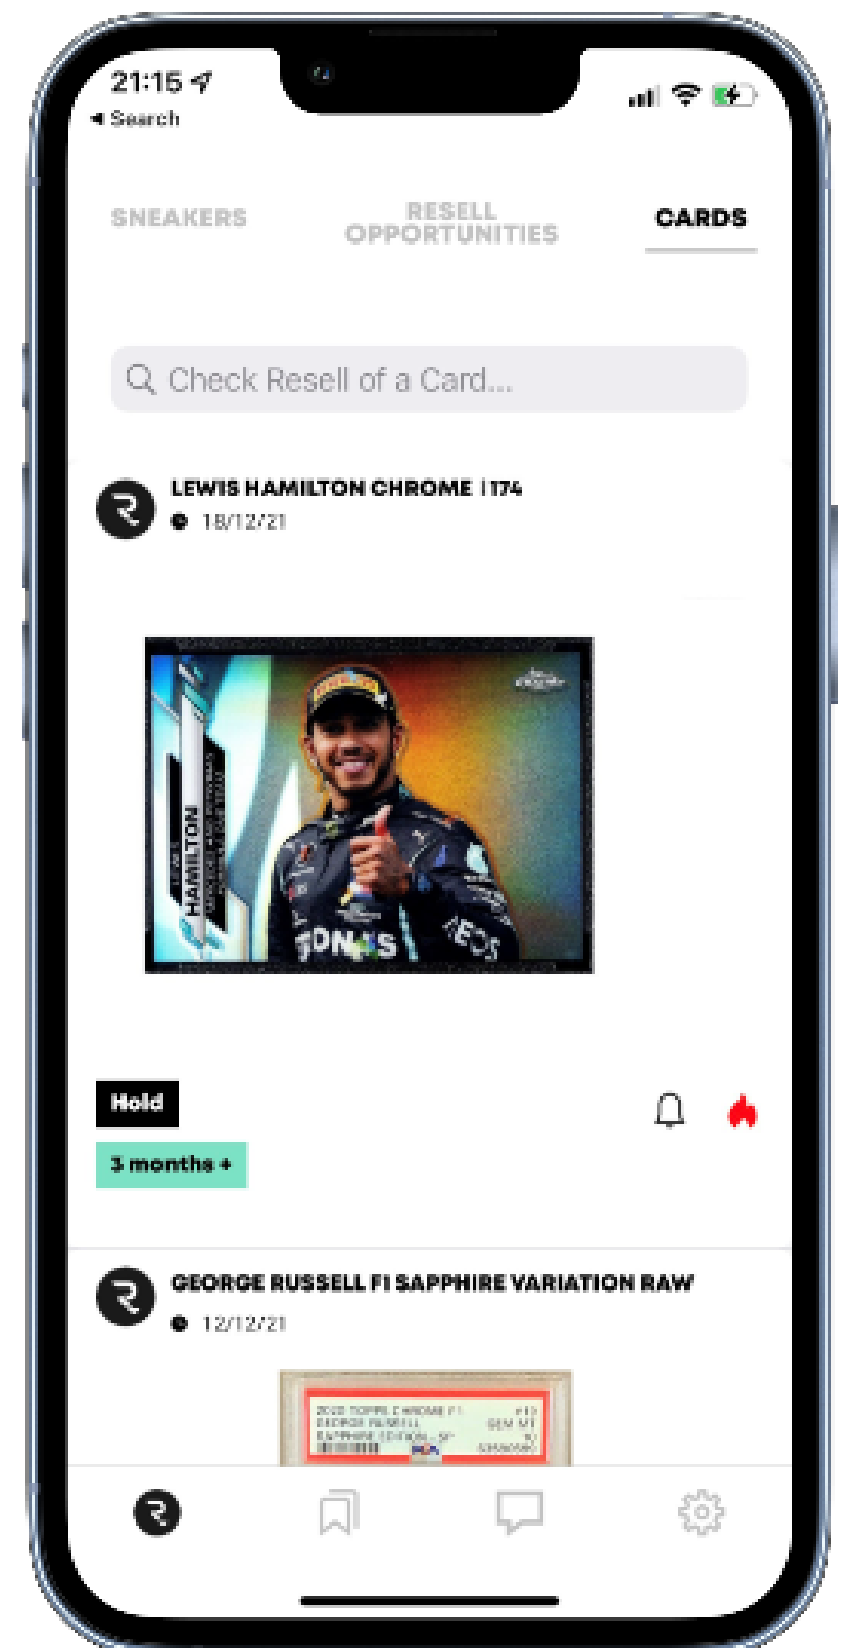

Please note that this is NOT financial advice and purely our opinion.

The team will post a full breakdown of the card. This will include, current market price (the price you should aim to buy at), the duration of the hold period (how long to wait before selling) and the projected resell value at that point, as well as information on the card itself.

View Resell: will show you the recent sold listings on ebay.

Where To Buy: will show you the links of where to buy on the card on eBay.

Make sure you get check out the dedicate Card Investing Guide we have and get involved in our Card Talk Chat!

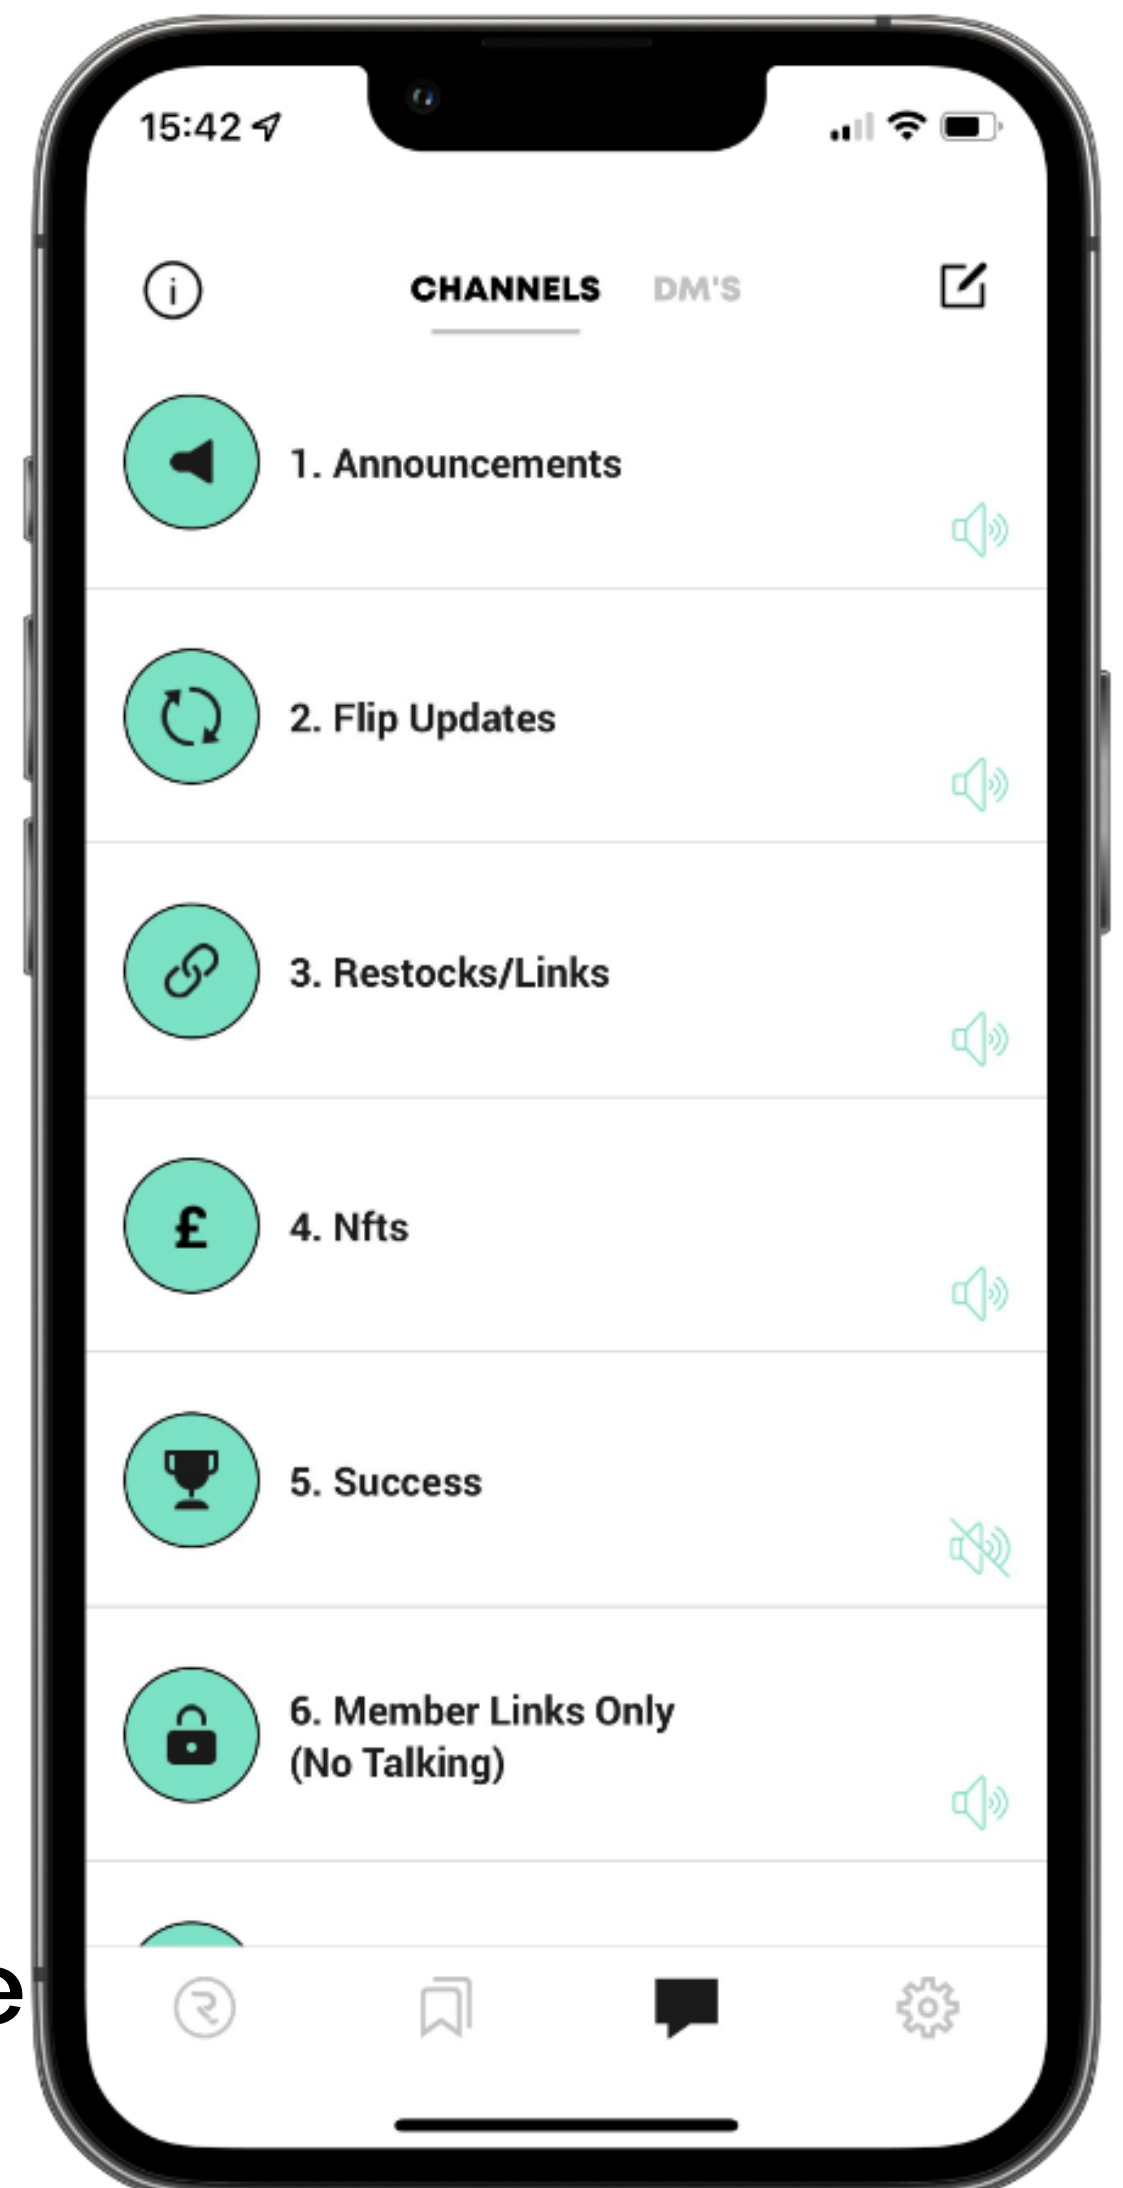

Chat Channels

We developed this chat feature with the purpose of creating a community where all members of Resell Connect can communicate with each.

Messages are sent in real time.

You will receive a notification once a message has been sent by management or a Resell Connect member within each chat channel. However, you can mute channels notifications by clicking on the mute button (see Success Channel).

We recommend NOT muting Announcements , Investments & Restock/Links channels, as they are vital for reselling. Only management will have access to type in those channels. Members will only have access to type within the General chat and Success. We also have a Member Links for our members to contribute to the RC Family! Please avoid general chat in this group and ask any questions in general chat. This is so members do not get irrelevant notifications.

Chat Channels

Announcements – Staff will post important information here; this could include information on a new app update or important information on an upcoming 'Resell Opportunity'.

Flip Updates – Here, Staff will keep you up-to-date on recent flips; how they are performing. This is a very important channel as it will give you the information on current resell prices as well as how the item is performing in sales.

Restocks/Links – This channel is for on-the-fly drops or restocks. A perfect example is a PS5 drop; they are often unexpected and sell out within minutes, as a result there is no time to make a 'Resell Opportunities' post, as it takes too long. As such, these drops will be posted in here and will look something like this:

PlayStation 5 at Very

Price: £449.99

Resell: £700+ (Resell price is often an estimate)

Link: <https://www.very.co.uk/playstation-5/>

NFT's – Information on upcoming NFT projects/ drops will be posted here. Please make sure that you are aware, posts made here are NOT financial advice and purely our thoughts and opinions. Whilst NFT's can be extremely lucrative, they are also extremely volatile, so only put in what you are willing to lose. We are simply providing the information on the upcoming drops and not advising you to do anything with that information; that is up to your discretion.

Success – Please post all your success here as it gives us an idea of whether our members are securing items or not. It helps us to track what kind of items our members like. This could be a screenshot of a confirmed order or a recent sold ebay listing. It can be whatever you deem as a 'success'.

Member Links – As we are a growing community, we know many of you will have lots of your own 'flips' and opportunities. If there is anything worth reselling that you see, make sure to pop a link in 'Members Links' with the current resell price. Please make sure not to talk in this channel as it is purely for allowing members to post their own flip opportunities.

General Chat – Here you are free to talk about anything and everything and get to know others within the community. Please be respectful of others, bullying or any form of harrasment will NOT be tolerated.

Card Talk – This operates in the same way to 'General Chat' but with the aim of all talk being card related.

Sneakers – This is the 'Announcements' channel for sneakers specifically and will inform you of when a new sneaker flip opportunity has been posted.

FAQ's

1

How many Opportunities do you post?

We post upcoming flips on an ad hoc basis on the Resell Opportunities Page. The Restocks/Links channel will provide you with opportunities much more frequently that vary in product range

2

Why do these items Resell?

It can be for a variety of reasons; the items we post are typically very limited and/ or "hyped" items. These products will typically be made in a limited supply and the demand far outweighs this, resulting in a premium price tag on the secondary market.
